MediaSDK Intern - 628799

Description

In this position, you will be acting as a technical MediaSDK intern on Intel� architecture. Your main responsibilities will include: developing/debugging video processing software, implementation of automatic test systems, providing technical support and assistance.

Qualifications

You should be a fourth year or above student in a scientific discipline or equivalent. Additional qualifications include:

- Knowledge in C and/or C++
- Ability to quickly obtain a good understanding of the technical environment of software development
- Knowledge in video compression standards would be advantage
- Knowledge in DXVA2 would be advantage

Please submit your resume in English to russiastudent@intel.com