

Panos Pardalos,

University of Florida, USA and HSE NN

Cliques, Quasi Cliques, and Clique Partitions in Graphs

The maximum clique problem and its variations is an NP-complete problem with many applications in diverse fields such as network analysis, drug design, and cryptography. In this lecture we will discuss different algorithms and applications, recent developments, and open problems.